

MYOMBE RESERVE: THE GREAT APE DOMAIN

BUSCH GARDENS, TAMPA, FLORIDA

BUSCH ENTERTAINMENT CORPORATION

Myombe Reserve envelops visitors in the domain of lowland gorillas and common chimpanzees—a rainforest habitat five stories high and three acres in breadth, rich in biodiversity.

As you enter Myombe Reserve, the thick foliage engulfs you. Crossing over a stream and snaking through the dark forest, you view these magnificent primates from the edge of forest clearings. Along the whole length of this string of passages, across teeming marshes, in dense thickets of bamboo, you are surrounded by their presence—near and far. Even remote areas of the animal domain are captured on video monitors located in viewing shelters concealed by flowering vines.
